Love is a never-ending story

(Lyrics by Olivia Trummer)

Love is a never-ending story
Cast in a song that never dies
You are my human allegory
Since I found love in your eyes

Some say that fairy-tales are fiction
And that seduction is an art
Love may be full of contradictions
But it's the cure for every lonely heart

We're running free in a season of light
You make me see that the future is bright
Love shields us against the hands of time
A closing chord will be hard to find

What if we knew the final answer,
Would we remember how to start?
Make me a dreamer and a dancer
You'll find the answer in my loving heart

It feels like love shields us against the hands of time
A closing chord will be hard to find
Love has no happy ending
Love is an eternal start
