Strolling

(Lyrics by Olivia Trummer)

I am strolling, following my feet
Gently rolling all along the street
A world in between Any plans would seem obscene
I let my feet pave the way to serenity

All I need to depart is a song in my heart
Telling me that rainbows' ends are found in meadows
Telling me that love is found when you expect it the least

I am strolling, following my feet
Gently rolling all along the street
What marvelous world it would be if we randomly met at the end of the street
And slowly strolling starts to feel like flying
